

Even the best students, at the finest Universities, benefit from additional guidance and support from time to time. Sometimes you'll have a specific problem with your work that needs a quick solution, or perhaps you just want to talk to someone about how things are going with your course.

Don't worry...we can help when things aren't going to plan!

We offer a full range of services, from full catch-up courses to single-hour tuition and coursework advice, at all levels. Our tutors and consultants have experience of every aspect of student support, including all the special situations that foreign students face during their time in the UK.

Take a look at some of the ways we can help. You can call for a friendly chat, any time. Remember - we are always just a phone call away.

Why struggle, or settle for second best, when success may be well within your reach?

In the centre of the UK, we are just an hour from London, if you need to visit for tutorials or advice.

Whatever your situation, our experienced staff will offer balanced, expert help, and always treat you as a friend.

Our main aim is always to help you plan your studies in a way that's right for you, whatever your situation, so that you can work happily, and with confidence that you are on your way to success.

English Language

We understand that writing essays and dissertations for school or University can be a challenge, until you get used to it.

Often, a student knows the material, but struggles to achieve the marks they deserve, because their academic writing skills are lacking. Let us show you the way.

Proof Reading

Proofreading is a very skilful job, when it's done properly, and we take it very seriously.

You have worked hard for a whole year, or maybe longer, and it's important that you present your work at its best, in a way that shows your supervisor what you've achieved, without the language or essay-format problems that may have nothing to do with how good you are at your subject. We take the time to make your essays clear and easy to mark, while guaranteeing not to change what you were trying to say. University staff have come to trust us, and you can too - your written work should reflect the hard work you've put in.

GCSE/A Level Revision

We have over twenty years' experience of teaching at GCSE and A Level, in all the popular subjects.

Our tutors have been teaching intensive courses since before most of today's A Level students were even born, and we know that it's never too late to hit those books and pass that exam!

University Support - All Levels

Maybe the work is a bit too tricky sometimes, or you have trouble organising yourself efficiently, but these problems are often the easiest to fix.

Many of our own students are studying at Foundation level, so we know what it's like, and how valuable a helping-hand can be to your final mark.

One-to-one Tuition

Whether you need to revise a whole module, or cover a particular lesson that has been causing problems, our tutors can help.

Just call for an appointment, and we'll find a friendly, expert tutor to help you through, quickly, so that you can move on with your studies, ready for those important exams.

You may also find it useful to join one of our special courses in the holidays. We teach most subjects, including English, mathematics, business studies, the sciences, information technology.

Credit Course

No-one knows what the future may bring, or what services may be useful through the year, so our credit scheme may be the perfect solution for you.

An easy, affordable subscription gives you access to all our services, as you need them, without worrying about cost or fees, leaving you to concentrate on what really matters - your studies, and your future.
